

A multiplication table for the number 8, presented in a colorful, sunburst-style background. The table is organized into two columns and five rows. Each equation is written in a bold, rounded font with a thick outline. The numbers are color-coded: the first number (8) is red, the second number (multiplier) is a different color, and the result is a third color. There are four yellow star icons in a circle, one in each of the four corners of the table area.

$8 \times 5 = 40$	$8 \times 10 = 80$
